Coast Dump Site Wins Final OK

Contract granting Daly City Scavenger Co. a 20-year "franchise" to dispose of garbage at a Coastside fill and cover dump site was approved by the city council Monday, culminating nearly four years of negotiations.

The dump site will be located at a point near Mussel Rock. Preliminary work on the fill and cover operation is expected to start this week.

Under terms of the agreement, the disposal site will be turned over to the city after 20 years, for municipal use.

Garbage rates will not be affected by the contract for at least two years, since the current pact will run until August, 1959.

Rates will be subject to renegotiation every five years.

Talks threatened to bog down Monday when City Manager Howard Stites clashed with the scavengers' engineer, W. O'Connell, over method of fill and cover to be used.

Stites finally agreed to give O'Connell's method a trial, with the stipulation that the city would have final control over the operation.

Stites had also asked that the scavengers build a 2200 foot all-weather road to the bottom of the craggy site, but O'Connell said such a road would be out of the question and would cost from $150,000 to $200,000.

The city manager also objected briefly to the company's plans to maintain a dump site near the top of the property for use during wet weather when trucks would not be able to travel to the bottom of the slopes.

A spokesman from the county health department denied Stites' charge that the nature of the operation, which will be left open at night, would provide a breeding ground for rodents.

Rodent control methods would be employed by the company at all times, O'Connel said.

Templeton avenue residents are awaiting Thanksgiving so they can celebrate the anniversary of a decrepit old vehicle at No. 772 that has not been moved since November, 1956.

If there were parking meters there, owner of the car would owe his wages in fines.

VANDALS 'OIL' HOMES OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Police are on the prowl today for malicious intruders who this week damaged property of two Jefferson Elementary school district board members.

First incident occurred Monday when trustee Mrs. Doris Wimberly, 892 North Mayfair, noticed a huge oil spot on her lawn.

Again Wednesday, Mrs. Wimberly's lawn was invaded, this time the culprits spreading more liquid. That evening, board chairman Hartley Appleton, 1 El Portal way, returned home to discover a fishy substance on his porch.

Officers said the acts appear like those of juveniles, but recent phone call attacks on JESD members tab the vandalism as the type of a more serious nature.

Persons caught doing the malicious work are subject to criminal prosecution.

DC Buys Another Wood Tank

Daly City council bought another wooden tank Monday and fervently hoped it wouldn't turn out to be another "wooden nickel."

The Fluor corporation was awarded contract for supplying the city with a 50,000 gallon wooden reservoir which will be temporarily located next to Westlake Reservoir No. 2.

Cost of the king-size vessel is $11,981, which will include installation at the temporary location and later moving the contraption to a permanent spot south of Westlake Unit 9.

The city bought a wooden wine tank earlier this year, for stand-by use while the earthquake-cracked reservoir was being repaired, but had to return the cistern after it failed to meet health standards.

The Fluor company is scheduled to start installation of the tank at its temporary location Monday. Contract calls for completion in 14 days.

War On Weeds To Start Monday

The mammoth project of clearing some 500 vacant lots of weeds and debris will be launched by the fire department Monday.

The city council Monday passed a resolution ordering abatement of the several hundred collective nuisances.

Some 700 notices to abate weeds were sent out originally, and approximately 200 of the property owners complied, according to public works director Otis Calhoun.

Firemen will burn off the weed-overgrown lots and clear away debris. Property owners will be charged for the service on their next tax bill.

The clean-up program is scheduled for completion by October 1.

MEAT LAW DEBATE WILL BE REVIVED

The prohibition against sale of uncooked meats after 6 p.m. in Daly City, securely tucked away in the city archives earlier this summer, will be held up for inspection again, the council decided Monday.

Councilman Del Wilson, who with Mayor Joseph Verducci voted unsuccessfully to rescind the meat ordinance on July 8, brought the topic up again. He displayed a news item showing that Richmond had this week approved sale of meats after 6 p.m.

Wilson moved to rescind the ordinance, received a second from Verducci, but then the issue was tabled by Councilman Micheal De Bernardi, who called for a "discussion on the ordinance in its entirety" at the August 21 study session.

This will mark the third time the controversial ordinance has been up for review in little more than a year. The council first tabled a plea to rescind the ordinance in May, 1956.

This Pilgrim Found DC Shores 'Hostile'

An unhappy "pilgrim" arrived in Daly City this week.

Robert Lee Pilgrim, merchant seaman of 65 Alexander street, was arrested for failure to pay 23 San Francsico traffic tickets.

Daly City officers tranferred the seaman to SF authorities after he failed to come up with $226 bail—the amount he owed.

A Signal Improvement Is Planned

4 Fund Raising Measures Pass First Council Hurdle

TRAFFIC SIGNALS are on the drawing board for the hectic Mission-Knowles intersection shown here. City council this week considered plans for the project, which will be forwarded to the state for a cost estimate. The city will share cost of the job with the state. The program will include pedestrian "walk-wait" signals and the present "many splendored" signals where San Jose and Mission street intersect, just north of area in photo, will be timed to coincide with the new installation.

Subsidy On Garbage Out, Licenses Set

Four measures designed to produce enough revenue to operate the city during the coming year were introduced in ordinance form by the city council Monday.

The first ordinance will revoke the 25-cent a month subsidy the city now contributes to individual users' garbage bills, which will hike total cost to residents by $3 a year.

Another ordinance will raise the water connection charge from $35 to $50, while a third will establish license fees for all mechanical devices.

The licenses will start at a minimum of $3 a year for penny machines, $36 for a juke box, $50 for vending machines and $100 per annum for other coin devices, which would include pinball machines.

Pay Fines Here

The fourth bit of money-raising legislation will make $1 parking meter fines payable direct to the city instead of channeling them through municipal court, which takes 24 cents out of each dollar collected for the city.

The ordinance first stipulated that parking meter violation fines would be raised to $2, but Councilman Del Wilson objected to this increase.

All the ordinances will come up for second reading and passage at the August 26 council session.

A fifth ordinance introduced Monday would eliminate the stringent Fire Zone 1 for some commercial areas, primarily along Mission street. Business people have complained that the requirements under that zone made cost of building prohibitive and were not necessary to maintain fire safety.

Other Action

In other action, the council:

1. Held for more study a request by M. D. Ambulance service for approval of a rate schedule. Councilman Paul Hupf demanded that owner of the ambulance firm appear before the council in person to explain absence of one of the original partners, Vernon Vogan.

2. Postponed action on request from Daly City Employees Union to be included in federal old age insurance program. The employees presently receive these benefits from the state retirement system, but could join the federal

'GROSS NEGLIGENCE'

Aide Target Of Probe On SF Water

Water supervisor Charles A. (Gus) Ford was charged with "gross negligence" and "disregard of written and verbal instructions" in authorizing purchase of some $2588 in San Francisco water, in a report to the council Monday by director of public works Otis Calhoun.

Ford will be called before the council at the August 21 study session.

"Unauthorized" purchase of San Francisco water, when Daly City had an adequate supply available, came to light three weeks ago and the council subsequently learned nearly $8000 has been paid to San Francisco in a six months period.

The expense could have been averted, critics charge, by use of a "cross-over" system which connects reservoirs in eastern Daly City with the Westlake area, where a water shortage existed. This system was installed more than eight months ago, but only put into use recently.

At request of Councilman Micheal De Bernardi, Calhoun submitted a full report on the failure to use the new system.

Bans SF Water

Calhoun said he had told Ford never to use San Francisco water unless under an extreme emergency and to notify him immediately if any of the outside water was purchased.

The public works chief contended that "the water supervisor should have been able to operate the bypass without any trouble," pointing out that it was installed under Ford's direction.

Gas Costs Less Here These Days

Daly City service stations joined the Bay Area gas price war last week, as prices for regular dropped from 34.9 to 29.9 cents a gallon and premium prices plummeted from 36.6 to 32.9.

Throughout Mission street, Junipero Serra and Westlake areas, the reduced prices were virtually uniform.

The Daly City Gasoline Retailers association may call an emergency meeting within the next week in an attempt to call off the price cutting, a spokesman for the group said.

Many dealers fear that the present price slash may be only a beginning and that if one station cuts prices further, others will follow suit.

Last year Daly City dealers were involved in a 2½-month price war.

On the Bay Area-wide level, the gas war was reportedly touched off by a few major dealers seeking to squeeze out smaller competitors.

Publicity Workshop Announced

A publicity workshop for all PTA, church, civic, fraternal and women's club representatives will be held at THE RECORD office on September 21, Editor Harold P. Bradshaw announced today.

The workshop will be held from 10 a.m. to noon and visitors will be conducted on a tour of the newspaper plant to learn more about problems and policies of weekly newspapers.

Bradshaw explained that many organizations find it difficult to secure adequate publicity for their organization. Many times, he said, this is due to poor copy preparation or lack of knowledge about newspaper operation.

The workshop will include briefing on methods of preparing news releases, how to plan publicity and picture schedules and a general outline of newspaper procedures.

All publicity chairmen of local organizations, and others interested are invited to attend the session.

'Lipstick' Punks Make Shambles Of W'lake Home

Daly City police were still questioning juveninle suspects at press time in the vandalistic burglary of a vacationing Westlake family's home.

When Edward P. Ryan and his family returned to 528 North Mayfair Wednesday afternoon, they found their house a complete "mess."

All six rooms had been ransacked, smeared with lipstick messages, sprayed with perfume, and emptied of valuable jewelry and clothing. The culprits helped themselves to a bottle of vodka and even changed clothes in one of the bedrooms.

Total estimate of the damages was not determined at press time.

A neighbor said she heard someone in the house on three occasions last week. Police queried several neighborhood youths on their whereabouts.

Ryan, 37, works in the real estate business.

COLMA SEEKS BIDS ON STREET PROJECT

Colma town council Wednesday night called for bids for improvement of Jewell street, a project estimated at about $6000.

Portions of Jewell, which runs west from the town hall on El Camino, have long been in a state of disrepair. Work will include excavating, grading and surfacing, and will be financed by gas tax funds.

Bids will be received on August 28.

The council also approved recommendation of the planning commission to grant George Lagomarsino variance permit to erect commercial structures on cemetery zoned land west of Old Mission road.

Brisbane Sewage System Taken Over By Water District

Brisbane County Water district directors voted unanimously last Thursday to take over the area's sewer system, after a poll of the audience showed 18 persons in favor of the move, four opposed.

Under the motion, the district will "exercise their powers in relation to sanitation, including negotiations with county supervisors to take over operation and assets of the sewer system and to obtain a survey as to needs of the system and proper disposal facilities."

Ultimately, the water district would hope to construct a sewage disposal plant, probably by sale of revenue bonds.

Sherman Eubanks represented the Crocker Estate and indicated his company had hopes that the sewage needs could be worked out jointly, rather as single ventures by the district and Crocker Estate.

The district's initial step toward taking over the sewage system will be a survey to determine what facilities will have to be installed.

North County JC Rides On Big Bond Election

An outlay of $600,000 for immediate acquisition of at least 85 acres for a junior college site in North San Mateo County will be included in a $5,900,000 bond issue to be decided by voters on October 15.

Designation of the bond election date was made Friday by members of the San Mateo Junior College District board of trustees.

Central Campus

In addition to the $600,000 chunk for the north county site, the board also voted unanimously for Barneson Heights as the site for immediate development of a unified central campus of 95 acres.

Following the acquisition of the north county site from the funds raised by the October 15 bond issue, actual plans on buildings would begin in 1961. The northern college would open in 1968 to provide for 2100 students, the projected initial enrollment on that campus at that date.

The northern campus would serve Daly City, Westlake, North Coastside, Brisbane, Bayshore, and possibly some northern communities in the San Mateo Union High School District.

The action taken Friday follows the recommendation made by the Citizens Advisory Committee on site acquisition.

Bortolazzo Plan

The amount of $5,900,000 for the bond issue was recommended by Julio L. Bortolazzo, district superintendent, as the figure to provide the most economical and efficient program for developing the Barneson Heights site and acquiring the northern site for a future campus.

In addition to the $5,900,000 bond issue, the District will have a cash reserve of $2,580,000, plus estimated funds of $1,500,000 from the sale of the Delaware campus and $200,000 from the sale of the Baldwin campus to meet the estimated cost for the development of the unified campus and purchase of the northern site.

Slight Tax Hike

The proposed $5,900,000 bond issue running for a 25-year period beginning July 1959, with interest at 3%, would mean an $.112 cent tax increase per $100 for 1959-60, with the increase dropping to $.073 in 1965-66, and $.057 for 1970-71. In dollars and cents for a family in a $15,000 home, the cost of the first year of this bond program would be 37c a month or $4.50 for that year, dropping by 1970 to 19c a month or $2.28 a year.

Other business at the August 9 meeting included authorization of a letter of appreciation to the Citizens Advisory Committee for services to the district in study and recommendations on district problems.

State, JESD, SF Chiefs Set 'Pershing' Parley

Settlement may be reached this Friday morning on the touchy General Pershing school site feud between Jefferson Elementary and San Francisco school districts over three acres of land.

State department of education and finance officials have called a joint meeting in the office of SF Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Harold Spears. The session begins at 10:30 a.m.

Supt. H. Z. Weibel and staff last Friday went to Sacramento to seek the state's advise on a meeting to resolve the "controversy." The move was prompted by Spears' declaration that he would oppose Daly City's "invasion" of three acres inside SF to bring the new Pershing site up to the state recommended 10 acres.

Reversal Unlikely

School planning officials have hinted that the state would not reduce the 10 acre project despite political pressure from the SF administration. Department of finance has allocated funds for the full 10 acres, thus it is unlikely the state—which holds final decisions on all JESD site quests—will reverse its action.

Trustees here repeatedly have pointed out that the San Francisco schools — independent of the state financially — "don't seem to realize we must have everything approved by the people who hold our purse strings."

Negotiations with the 42 homeowners involved in the Pershing move, meanwhile, are going rapidly. Asst. Supt. Dave Shapiro and trustee Mike Callan opened price talks this week with several residents.

Irate Irene

Only opposition has come from Mrs .Irene Meussdorffer, whose forest-like property is the major chunk included in the school area. This week the lady chased district engineers off her property with the aid of DC police. The school board moved to notify the district attorney in order to guarantee that their engineers may continue the surveys.

Weibel, Shapiro, trustee Mrs. Doris Wimberly and architect Mario Ciampi last week in Sacramento also discussed joint-use of Westlake park for recreation facilities of one proposed Westlake basin school. Needing a minimum of 36 classrooms north of Alemany, according to surveys, the district figures it can reduce its basin demands if a 50-year lease for six acres of Westlake park can be acquired for its K13 basin school. The other school, under state recommendation, would necessitate 10 full acres of the basin property, leaving some 4.6 acres on the basin site.

The Possibilities

The district attorney has suggested to the state that the basin problem can be settled legally by: 1) a friendly con-

That City Budget Keeps Rolling Along

For the umpteenth time, the city council Monday night delayed passage of the $1,319,345 budget.

Normally, the budget would have been up for final adoption in July, but Councilman Sanford Vickers, absent from several budget sessions, has announced that he has further recommendations to make concerning the 1957-58 fiscal outlay.

The budget will be discussed again in study session August 21, and may come up for adoption August 26.

City Attorney Frank Blum warned the council that if the budget was not adopted soon, "You'll be collecting taxes in January."

Community Center Completion Contract Awarded—$47,930

Contract for completing the Daly City War Memorial community center meeting rooms and other facilities was awarded to McGahey & Olson Monday night by the city council.

Cost to windup the long-delayed project will be $47,930, approximately $6000 above the estimate of public works director Otis Calhoun.

About half of the funds for the propect were carried over from last year's budget, while the balance will be taken from the capital improvement fund.

INCORPORATION?

Coast 'City' Ballot Set For October 29

"Pacifica's" boundaries confirmed last week by county supervisors,. City.. Committee for the Coastside municipality today opened a full-scale drive to register voters.

Supervisors last Thursday designated Tuesday, October 29, as the date of the incorporation election — the first covering the entire North Coastside of 12 square miles.

A simple majority at the polls will make Pacifica a city. Some 6500 Coastsiders are registered to date, with 1000 more the hopeful goal of the City Committee.

First attempt to incorporate on the Coast, in the Linda Mar area more than two years ago, failed by about 300 ballots. Approximately 1000 residents went to the polls.

For every registered voter, the city of Pacifica would get back $25 from the state in refund taxes each year. With Coastside population about 20,000, this would mean some $165,000 annually for the city.

Supervisors rejected three appeals last week from interests seeking "exclusion" from the proposed city.

First bid came from the "hard core" of anti-incorporationists in the Pedro Point area. They charged that if this region were included in the city limits, they would lose their fire district. District Attorney Keith Sorenson erased this contention, informing the Pedro Pointers that such would not be the case.

Second appeal came from the city of San Francisco, whose attorneys asked that the Sharp Park golf course, owned by SF as a municipal corporation, should be deleted from Pacifica. Supervisors replied that more police and fire protection would be afforded the golf operation if Pacifica's boundaries included the course. SF would be required to pay taxes for this protection.

Third protestant was Ablardo Bernardi, owner of the Linda Mar dump. He said his area was primarily agricultural and he didn't like the tax possibilities if Pacifica were official. City Committee argued that the dump is municipal and should be under city control.

Two supervisors, Martin Poss and Alvin Hatch, said that Pacifica incorporation wouldn't mean heavy tax hikes, according to a City Committee spokesman. The latter said that the Kroeger report, recommending incorporation, stipulated a tax projection of 13 cents per $100 valuation, or 24 cents per homeowner a month.

plan to augment their state membership.

3. Held up request by Henry Doelger Builder Inc. for C-2 zoning on three parcels of land at the southern extremity of Daly City. The parcels would be used for a concrete batching plant.

4. Learned that the state will schedule another survey to determine if traffic signals are warranted at Mission street in front of Jefferson High school.

5. Held over request of Hilltop Cab Co. for two more taxi permits, pending recommendations from the chief of police.

6. Tabled request from Skiatron TV Inc. for permit to operate closed circuit television here.

7. Received letter of appreciation from John Harness and John Vollers for location of stop signs on Chester street.

Sedatives Hospitalize Daly City Housewife

A 45-year-old Daly City housewife was placed under hospital observation early Thursday morning after she allegedly took an overdose of sedatives.

Held at Junipero Serra hospital was Mrs. Majorie Kerr, 423 Winchester street. Summuned by her husband, Malcolmn, police found an empty bottle of pills near the unconscious woman.

Registration Sites

Several registration centers have been established to get more people to the polls October 29. Volunteers are on hand each evening at the Seavue theater in Pacific Manor. Other centers will be designated soon.

Reliable sources believe that Pacifica will become a reality. A City Committee representative remarked:

"The Coastside is a young community and needs to be incorporated. Opposition thus far comes from the old timers who don't think they have much to gain through incorporation. Most of our opponents don't have youngsters, therefore they can't appreciate the benefits a city would offer."

Recent petition drive for the election brought heavy response — indicative that the pro-city move was never stronger.

MEMBERS of the San Mateo County Mounted Patrol donated blood at their ranch quarters near Woodside recently during a visit of the mobile unit of Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank. The rustic headquarters were transformed quickly into a smooth operating blood collection station. This was the first group donation by the patrol. A member is seriously ill and needed the blood. A steak dinner was served to donors, members and to mobile unit staff members.

a four-foot chunk of concrete was later found in the system, Calhoun termed it "gross negligence."

De Bernardi maintained that responsibility rested with Calhoun and City Manager Howard Stites, relating that the system had been in eight months and only recently put into use.

Mayor Joseph Verducci took a different tack, however, asserting that Calhoun's statements were very "strong" and that some action should be taken against Ford.

"The man in charge should take the brunt," said De Bernardi. "He can't push off his responsibility."

"Not Dodging"

"We're not trying to dodge our responsibility," asserted Stites. "Long before De Bernardi mentioned this I have made efforts to stop the use of San Francisco water."

"But this whole matter could have been averted if the information was relayed to the council at the proper time," said De Bernardi. "There's not enough information coming to the council."

De Bernardi also lambasted the fact that one city well was out of operation for seven months, but Stites said the well was not needed.

Verducci asked Stites for a recommendation as to what action should be taken against Ford, but the manager suggested the matter be taken up at the August 21 study session.

Councilman Sanford Vickers said Ford should be present at the investigation to give his side of the story.

Colma Townspeople Unconcerned About Cemetery Land Use

Residents of Colma appeared conspicuously unconcerned about a proposed master plan which would allow for commercial development on cemetery-zoned property, as only two persons turned out for a public hearing on the matter before the town plannig commission Tuesday.

There was no opposition to the proposal to establish X-1 zoning for commercial and industrial development on Colma's pastoral acreage.

The planners, however, continued the hearing to a date not yet determined.

B'moor Boy, 7, Gets Very Tired, Also Very Lost

Gregory A. Deal, 7-year-old Broamoor adventurer, will stay a little closer to home—next time.

Sunday he went bicycling. When dusk fell and he didn't return, his parents got apprehensive. Broadmoor and Daly City police looked far and wide. Still no Gregory.

Minutes became hours. And the Deals became frantic.

Finally, about 3:45 a.m., San Francisco officers located Gregory's bike outside Harding Park Golf course. Three hours later, the lost lad was found—fast asleep in some bushes nearby.

Not too much the worse for wear—but cold, young Deal figures he'd better play around his neighborhood. His home, 443 89th street, never looked so good, the sleepy-eyed tot mumbled after his big night out.

dennation suit or 2) a community recreation program. The latter appears quite probable.

Weibel said the district soon will have a report from Dr. Strand, in charge of the San Mateo County Continuing School Survey, on the district's "attendance centers," outlining enrollment projections and classroom needs.

The superintendent said that according to Strand, if the basin acreage were reduced, children south of the new Vista Mar school would be unable to attend Vista Mar because the school would have to accomodate youngsters north of Vista Mar and north of Alemany.

Table Bids

Bids for understructure work on the seven classroom additions at Ben Franklin failed to pass state approval last week. Ciampi has been instructed to re-design his plans and bids will be re-advertised.

In other action, the board:

1. Reviewed report on city-schools summer recreation program prepared by Dee Van Nest in cooperation with representatives of the unincorporated areas.

2. Voted unanimously to grant one-year salary increases to the superintendent, to $14,000 per year, and assistant superintendent in charge of business, to $12,000 a year.

3. Tabled bids for Garden Village playground improvements for more study. Low bidder proved to be a company suing the district for extension of contract.

4. Agreed request for in-sale liquor license at proposed bowling alley some 250 feet from Benjamin Franklin school. Then moved to establish policy that district would automatically protest liquor licenses applied for within a minimum distance of 600 feet from any school.

5. Accepted deeds on four pieces of property on Stewart avenue in connection with Ben Franklin school additions.

6. Granted a 55-day extension of contract to E. H. Moore and Sons for work at Ben Franklin.

7. Hired three new teachers: Phoebe Guernsey, DeVara Williams and Mary Ann Lynch.

8. Accepted Crocker-Pershing PTA invitation for panel meeting on November 12 at Crocker school multipurpose room.

9. Set maximum outlay of $9770.20 as district's share of storm drain work on Market street in front of Colma school. Board was reluctant to okay this move, feeling that the city and private individuals were "taking advantage of the district."

quoted GEORGE MASON, incorporated leader, as follows, "We're not planning any municipal war. What would Verducci have us do—send a welcoming committee to throw garlands of roses on the first carload of Daly City trash?"

It would be a nice gesture, at that.

That $1000 that Kroeger and Associates charged Daly City for a report on assessment practices here may be whittled by a sizeable amount before the city agrees to pay, councilmen hinted Monday night.

IS EVERYBODY HAPPY?

Editorial

$5 MILLION AND NOT A WHISPER

The public's indifference to local government in the past two weeks is shocking.

Last week two local school districts held public hearings on budgets totaling more than $4,400,000. Purpose of these hearings is to allow the public to peruse the budget, criticize and make recommendations in an effort to see that their money is properly accounted for.

Not one person, other than members of the board and district officials, was present at either of the public hearings.

On Wednesday of last week the city council met as the board of equalization and had announced that they would pass the budget that night.

One citizen was in the audience, and he appeared on a matter other than the budget.

So in three public meetings at which expenditures totaling $5,742,565 were up for consideration, not one person took the trouble to turn out and inquire about the expenditure of his tax money.

The three entities combined represent a taxing power of $5.55 per $100 of valuation. In simpler terms, if your home is assessed at $3000, these three governments spend $166.50 of your money each year.

If a citizen were investing this amount in securities every year, he would keep a strict account of how that money was being spent and what returns he was receiving.

The parallel between government and business is obvious.

But where the public will invest its funds for monetary gains and maintain close scrutiny over every dollar, it appears to lose all interest when the same money is being spent by a government. Yet the returns on money invested in government can be far more important that the pecuniary gain through business endeavors.

We cannot explain the alarming apathy of the public. Perhaps the citizens feel that their elected officials provide them with adequate representation on these high finance matters.

That, to us, is a highly dangerous philosophy.

Joseph Maroney Graduates From Maritime School

Joseph Patrick Maroney, son of Mrs. Jessie E. Maroney of 17 Santa Barbara avenue, was graduated Friday from the California Maritime Academy in Vallejo.

He was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science in marine engineering and a license as third assistant engineer.

Winston J. Jones, vice president, Pacific Transport Lines, delivered the principal address at the excercises. Rear Admiral R. E. Wood, USCG, Commander 12th Coast Guard District, San Francisco, presented the license. Hugh Gallagher, assistant to the president, Matson Navigation Company, and chairman of the board of governors, California Maritime Academy, awarded the degree.

During his attendance at the Academy, Maroney was a company commander, and active in varsity waterpolo.

Coast Firemen Granted Raises

Long overdue pay hikes were granted Monday night to Coastside firemen in five job classifications.

Commissioners said more salary raises would be put into effect by mid-1958.

Pay raises effective immediately:

Chief, from $435 to $495; captain, from $415 to $455; lieutenant, from $395 to $424; hoseman, from $350 to $375, and fireman, from $330 to $360.

FASTER AND SAFER

It's both faster and safer to reverse the technique that the majority of drivers use in rounding a curve. That is to say, it will be both of these desirable things if the motorist goes slowly into the curve, then gradually picks up speed before leaving it. National Automobile Club points out that the car virtually will drive itself if this system, which is that of the race driver, is followed.

Veterans News

By Grace J. Hill

How many veterans with service-connected disabilities of 50 percent or more know that their government compensation can go up or down, depending on their family's size?

The Veterans Administration recently completed a survey and found more than 13,500 veterans eligible for higher payments who did not know they were entitled to the increases and were not getting them until the VA learned about the situation. Several thousand veterans were drawing larger allowances than they were entitled to.

Extra Pay

With a 50 percent or greater disability of service origin a veteran is entitled to additional compensation for wife, children and dependent parents. The amount differs according to the wartime or peacetime cause of the disability.

Some 240,000 veterans who were contacted by the VA through questionnaires were receiving exactly the proper amount of compensation. In all instances veterans should notify the VA of changes in their family status caused by births, deaths, divorces, marriages, or a child's becoming self-supporting.

In addition to compensation based on the percentage of disability adjudged by the VA there are, for severely disabled veterans, the so-called 'statutory' awards for specific anatomical losses, blindness, arrested tuberculosis, etc., ranging from $37.60 to $420. Only an act of Congress can reduce, raise or take away a statutory award.

Luncheon Whist

The American War Mothers will hold a luncheon whist on Tuesday, August 20, 12:30 p.m., at the Fox Hostess House, 34th avenue and Balboa street. Proceeds will go toward their hospital work.

The delegates to the 26th District, American Legion, from Broadmoor Post 824 for the coming year will be Steve Melinec, Richard Buhman, Stanley Bomba, Manuel Broner and Mervin Cowan.

Daly City Unit 410, American Legion Auxiliary, will hold its regular meeting, Wednesday evening, August 21. Plans will be completed for the Ft. Miley Hospital party to be held next month. Other plans will be made for many affairs to take place soon. Ten delegates attended the 26th District meeting in San Carlos Friday night.

Mourn La Crosse

The 26th District, American Legion Auxiliary, is saddened by the loss of Mrs. Laura La Crosse of Half Moon Bay. She was a worker in the district for many years. She will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery. She was the first Chapeau of San Mateo County Salon of the 8 & 40. She belonged to San Mateo Unit 82.

All veterans organizations will hold "Carnival Day" at Palo Alto Hospital, this Saturday, August 17. A very large attendance is anticipated. August Hansen, formerly of Daly City, is in charge of arrangements. Hours 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The State Convention of Veterans of World War I was held in Santa Rosa August 9 to 11. A new chapter is being formed in San Bruno. Eligible veterans interested please contact Alex Albertus, DE 3-9759.

SF Driver Injured In Coast Accident

A 25-year-old San Francisco man escaped with minor injuries Sunday afternoon when his car was involved with two others in a bumper-to-bumper accident on Coast Highway near Vallemar.

Highway patrolmen said a car driven by Joseph H. Taylor rammed the rear of a vehicle driven by George Bessetti, 29, also of San Francisco. The impact forced Bessetti's car into the rear of a third car, operated by Richard E. Finnigan, 24, also of San Francisco.

Taylor was released after treatment for cuts and bruises at Junipero Serra hospital.

Letters To The Editor

Reader Says School Costs Are Above Legal Limit

Sir:

Perhaps the people of the school districts served by your paper would be interested in getting a few more facts in connection with the proposed S. P. High School. It would be foolish to presume that all the facts could be outlined in one letter, but some excerpts from the recently published Fifteenth Report of the Senate Investigating Committee on Education, California Legislature of 1957, might be helpful in clarifying some points.

"The 'Don't List.' Two years ago the State Department of Education inserted in the State Administrative Code a section which has helped define items which must be excluded from school construction projects requiring state building aid.

"Local Teamwork Essential. Teamwork in the local school district is essential if money is to be saved in construction.

"Keeping costs down, then, is a matter of proper attitude, good organization, interested and effective committees, local understanding, and sound standards and criteria.

"Planning. A school district should plan carefully. It should seek the advice and counsel of a representative citizens' committee which includes in its membership individuals experienced in engineering, construction, school affairs, real estate, and finance.

"The Architect. A district should select its architect carefully, look at his previous work, talk to his clients, and deal with him on a budgeted square-foot basis. If an architect is instructed as to what is wanted he can produce it.

"Design. Auxiliary and administrative space should be kept at a minimum.

"The structure should be economically arranged with simple traffic patterns and with play areas located in such manner that the least possible personnel will be required for supervision."

Fifteen reports have been put out by the Senate of this State, but to my knowledge there are not more than two or three people out of the 62,000 your paper serves who would bother to take one or two hours to see where their taxes are going. The present report, in pages 104 through 130, merely confirms what the people were told in 1948 in the Jefferson Elementary School District and in 1950 when the Jefferson Union High School District was applying for State aid. Since that time not one board has bothered to limit the discretion of the architect. Schools built here have cost from 20 to 50 percent more than the law says they should and the people are having their children deprived of good education so they can pay those extra taxes for 40 years—not 30—because the extra facilities are assessed as additional taxes against the district and no part of them will be forgiven. As long as the people continue to shirk their responsibilities as citizens they will have the same conditions and the same causes for griping, but there is no need for "education below the national average" nor for "Westmoor Hi Work Lags Way Behind." The school boards were supposed to see that such things did not happen and have not been willing to find out the facts and the majority of the people have not been willing to protect their rights nor their children's rights. One or two citizens reading reports and asking school boards to use their authority properly can always be passed off as "malcontents" or "chronic gripers." Only a majority of the citizens using their power effectively can change conditions in this area.

Sincerely,
MRS. W. H. BECK

BPOA Contract Awarded For Tree Program

A contract for $1100 to cover pruning, staking and tying trees in Broadmoor Village was approved by the board of directors of the Broadmoor Property Owners association at its regular meeting last Thursday.

The contract went to D & J Landscape of South San Francisco, lowest bidder in a public bidding announced last month by the BPOA, and does not include costs to be incurred in replacing dead or missing acacias, pines and palms which the association maintains as part of its village beautification program.

Due to vacation schedule of several directors, the BPOA board, presided over by Edward J. Lee, president, moved quickly through one of the slimmest agendas of the year and adjourned in record time.

Among items acted upon by the board were proposals for installation of a directory of village organizations, showing their meeting days and hours, to be put up near the village map at 87th and Washington street; a quarterly newsletter for BPOA members; replacement of the trash can on the corner of 87th and Washington, and adoption of a schedule of rates and charges to be levied against renters of the BPOA community center who fail to live up to the rental agreement. Details of the last item will be brought to villagers' attention in a letter to be sent them by Lee within a few days.

Before adjourning, the board heard a report from administrative assistant R. N. Hilton that the YMCA would open a braille transcription course at the community center beginning next month. The session, open to village residents interested in this civic project, will be conducted Tuesdays, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Present at last week's meeting, in addition to President Lee and Administrative Assistant Hilton, were Robert Buchanan, treasurer; Adriano G. Delfino, secretary, and directors Jack Baker, Al Nickas, and Don Williams.

Construction Shed Clouted By Thief

The thief who broke into a highway construction shack on Edgemar road south of Skyline late Saturday made off with almost $300 in valuable equipment.

Taken were a skill saw, a portable electric drill and a water hose. Reporting the loss was the Williams and Burrows company of Belmont.

Firemen Avert Big Lumber Loss At Doelger Yard

Quick action by Daly City firemen Monday afternoon averted a major lumber loss for builder Henry Doelger in his biggest storage yard off Alemany boulevard in Westlake.

Juveniles seen milling around the area, apparently set fire to one of four "elephant trains," the familiar vehicles used at the World Fair in 1940. Heavy clouds of black smoke billowed over the yard, attracting residents throughout the area.

Actual damage was light because of the ancient condition of the trains, according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy. "Things really would have been bad if the lumber had caught fire," Kennedy reported.

Navy Offers 53 Special Schools For High Grads

In view of the modernization of the atomic, electronic supersonic Navy, the qualifications of the men that will man this new era team have raised proportionately, Chief Leo Polhemus, local recruiter, announced today.

In a step toward modernization, the Navy recently announced the mothballing of 60 ships within the next five months.

Included among the modern vessels which will replace and offset those mothballed during the coming fiscal year will be conventional and nuclear powered submarines, destroyers and the super-aircraft carrier RANGER which was commissioned at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, Virginia, August 10.

Chief Polhemus said that the men needed to man these modern ships must be highly trained, intelligent men. Qualified high school graduates upon enlisting in the Navy are guaranteed further education to prepare them for the responsible task ahead.

The new Navy offers schooling in any number of schools such as electronics and nuclear fission. In the High School Seaman category alone there are 53 schools to choose from. One can learn a trade while in the service. The various schools feature training in radio, optics, journalism, electricity, surveying and many others.

Men who desire to make application or obtain complete information about these oportunities should contact their local Navy recruiter at 6705 Mission street, Daly City, or phone PL 6-3740.

COURTEOUS FOLKS SAVE MANY LIVES: HIGHWAY PATROL

Courteous drivers obey the law and help save lives says the California Highway Patrol.

"Courtesy in traffic and obedience to the traffic laws combined mean traffic accident prevention," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "The difference between motoring discourtesy and an outright violation is slight and either act can cause a traffic accident.

"Most traffic laws are courtesy rules leading to cooperative driving and walking in traffic when heeded," Caldwell stated. "Our records indicate that lack of courtesy is quite prevalent on the highways.

"This is evidenced by the growing number of violations of right-of-way, unsafe lane changes, failure to lower the headlight beam when approaching or following another car, and following too closely," he concluded. "Courtesy and cooperation with others plus conformity to the rules will help improve our traffic accident record and keep you out of accident trouble."

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

Nelson Algren's "The Man With the Golden Arm," dealt with the death-in-life of a drug addict. Despite its subject matter, it contained long stretches of a strange, haunting beauty.

Not long ago Hollywood gave it the once-over-lightly, twisting the motivations and relationships of the principals to suit the objections of pressure groups and the soap-opera conditioned matinee crowd. What had been a compassionate picture of assorted lost souls wandering in a world of perpetual moral twilight became just another movie with an incongruously happy ending.

Translated to the stage, it can be seen weekends at 1725 Washington. The San Francisco Theater Company has retained the original feeling and has created a powerful play about people who live in a half-world of little hope, a lot of fear and inevitable despair.

Twisted Love

Will Marchetti plays the title role, Frankie Machine. One night, before the story opens, Frankie was drunk and in an automobile accident with his wife Zosh (Dushanne Von Loewenfeldt). With nothing physically wrong, she has convinced herself that she can't walk, and in a twisted bid for Frankie's love tries to tie him to her by constant reminders of his guilt.

"Hooked" and knowing it, despairingly in love with Molly-O (Anne Buschman) a sad little drink hustler, dreaming of the never-never day when he'll have a jcb in a big-time band, Frankie is fighting a losing battle on many fronts. When his life ends as it does, there is no surprise, only a feeling of completion and peace.

Marchetti is a tormented Frankie whose tragedy can end only one way. Dushanne projects the love and hatred Zosh feels for Frankie, underscored by the fear that there may come a day when she'll be alone, trapped in her wheelchair.

Bitter Humor

Special mention should be made of Jack Dali who portrays police Captain Bednar, affectionately known as Record Head to the flotsam and jetsam that are washed up around his desk. The latter comprise an amazing group of characters who appear in a bitterly humorous line-up scene.

But it is Dennis Rosa's performance as Sparrow that has the greatest impact. He's just a punk, pitiful and stupid and loyal, and Rosa plays it to the hilt.

The production is head and shoulders above anything this group has ever done, and the punk, a poor lost sparrow whom nobody will count when he falls will long remain in your memory.

Newspaper Stand Raider Is Foiled

Theft here of 40 cents from a newspaper stand coin box sent a 17-year-old San Francisco delinquent back to Hillcrest Juvenile Home this week.

Joseph Byrnes, owner of Dew Drop Inn, 7009 Mission street, held William H. Wood until police arrived.

The youth, in trouble before for theft and burglary, pried open the coin box with a screwdriver.

Hit-Run Suspect To Superior Court

Richard Lee Irvine, 19-year-old San Francisco youth who fled the scene of an accident on Coast Highway July 27, was held to answer to superior court on felony hit-run charges, after he waived preliminary hearing in municipal court last week.

Irvine's vehicle hit a motorcyclist, Georgina M. Becker, 22, of San Francisco. The girl lost her leg as a result of the accident.

Thief Must Like The Filter Kind

Theft of half a case of filter cigarettes from a truck in front of King's Market was reported to Daly City police Monday afternoon.

Bill Butler, Peninsula Tobacco company, was making deliveries at the time. The truck doors were open when he returned from the market.

Loss was estimated at $54.

Pedro Valley Soldier Gets Virginia Duty

Pvt. William D. Craig, whose wife, Joan, lives at 1027 Anza drive, Pedro Valley, recently was assigned to the U. S. Army Engineer Center Regiment at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Craig entered the Army last April and completed basic combat training at Fort Lewis, Washington.

The son of Mrs. Doris M. Craig, 231 Hillcrest drive, Daly City, he attended Jefferson High.

HEAVY APPLAUSE was accorded Daly City's Municipal Band last Saturday as this town was honored with a "day" at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta. Under the baton of George Brenner, (far right), the Daly City musicians presented a lively concert. Westlake's Phyllis Adams, "Miss DC of 1957," also was on hand to give fair-goers a stunning example of Daly City's contributions to the county scene.

Mrs. Ellen Yates won first prize in the "Mad Hat Parade."

Circle 143 will stage a dessert-whist next Thursday, August 22, 12:30 p.m., in Masonic Hall. Cost will be 50 cents per member. Mrs. Eleanor Cameron and Mrs. Bedell are co-chairman for the affair.

'Junk' Windshields To Be Outlawed

Hanging souvenirs or other objects from rear-view mirrors or from the top of the windshield so as to impair the driver's vision will be illegal, beginning September 11, says the California State Automobile Association.

Now, the new law reads, "No persons shall drive any motor vehicle upon a highway with any object so placed in or upon the vehicle as to obstruct the driver's clear view through the windshield, except required or permitted equipment of the vehicle."

The AAA motorists' organization points out that this means, in plain words, that hanging, dangling or attaching fuzzy dice, teddy bears, baby shoes, shrunken heads, velour toys, novelties, oddities and what-not around or near the windshield in a way that will decrease the driver's vision will be strictly prohibited.

The purpose of the law is apparent, for unimpaired vision is the most vital factor of all in safe driving.

Lowell Thomas Jr. (Daly City Marine) In Hawaii 'Assault'

Marine Sgt. Lowell W. Thomas Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell W. Thomas, 243 Winchester street, Daly City, landed on the rugged terrain of this Hawaiian Island early Saturday as the 1st Marine Brigade launched Operation "Tradewinds," a five-day amphibious sea and air assault employing the latest atomic age concepts of dispersal and surprise attack.

Marriage Licenses

THUR-LORD — Charles Roy Thur, 19, Daly City, and Janice Grace Lord, 18, Colma.

An angry man is Sylvester T. Bly,
Who today was sold a piece of "blue sky."
He'd stepped in a showroom—out of the rain,
Was sold a new car before he could explain!

How he hated the styling—so high and square
And in new features it was really bare.
"I got a real bargain—the buy of my life—
But how do I ever convince my own wife?"

Moral: You're paying for a new car... make sure you get one!

When you buy a new car, put your money on tomorrow—not yesterday. Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field. Should you invest in high, boxy styling when Dodge offers the low, low look of tomorrow? Should you invest in outmoded coil springs when Dodge offers new Torsion-Aire Ride? Should you invest in an old-fashioned lever-type transmission when Dodge offers the ease of Push-Button Driving? In other things, too—engines, brakes, interiors—Dodge is years ahead. So put your money on tomorrow. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge!

Cantor Wachter Bids Farewell To Temple Judea

Temple Judea will hold a special reception honoring Cantor and Mrs. Harold Wachter this Friday evening, August 16, following Sabbath services commencing at 8:30 o'clock in Westlake Temple House, 95 So. Mayfair avenue.

Cantor Wachter, leaving the congregation to commence study for the rabbinate at Hebrew Union college in Cincinnati, is a graduate of San Francisco State College and the Hebrew Union College School of Jewish Education and Sacred Music in New York. He and his wife and three children are planning to leave here Sunday.

Cantor Wachter has been associated with Temple Judea since July, 1953, at which time he was instrumental in organizing the first Sabbath, Festival and High Holyday Services in addition to a religious school with a staff of volunteer teachers, a sisterhood and youth group, for a period of two years before the congregation engaged its first rabbi. During this period, Cantor and Mrs. Wachter contributed the use of their home for the Temple office, conducting and executing all Temple business with a crew of volunteer secretaries. Bar Mitzvah training, choir rehearsals for the High Holydays, and meetings also took place in their home.

The congregation grew from a nucleus of about 10 to 20 members in 1953 to over 250 families today, with a religious school enrollment of about 260 children.

During Cantor Wachter's service of four years to Temple Judea, he was called upon to perform rabbinical as well as cantorial and executive secretarial duties, which eventually stimulated his interest in the rabbinate.

Because of the stepped-up fight against cancer, led by the American Cancer Society, one in every three cancer patients is being saved. This compares with one in every four saved a few years ago.

Something For Everyone

By The Staff Of The Daly City Public Library

Since the beginning of time the heavens have fired the wonder and imagination of man. Steady interest in the stars and astronomy is shown by library readers. Few subjects, indeed, receive more widespread and sustained interest. Fortunately, numerous books are available for astronomy enthusiasts.

Facts about the universe and the earth's place in the universe are given in such books as "The Heavens," by Jean Henri Casimir Fabre, Fritz Kahn's "Design of the Universe" and "The Changing Universe," by John Pfeiffer.

Especially of interest to beginning astronomy fans are such books as "Pictorial Astronomy," by Dinsmore Alter, "The Elements of Astronomy," by Edward Arthur Fath, Edgar Gardner Murphy's "A Beginner's Star Book" and "Astronomy for Everybody," by Simon Newcomb. "The Story of Man and the Stars," by Patrick Moore," is a history of astronomy from the cave men to modern times.

Books on the stars and constellations are plentiful. Among these are "Astronomy," by Robert Horace Baker, "Starcraft," by William Henry Barton, Jr. and the "Astronomy Handbook," by Leon Augustus Housman.

Many good books on astronomy are also available for younger readers. These include such books as "Worlds in the Sky," by Carroll Lane Fenton, "Explaining the Moon," by Roy A. Gallant, "Fun with Astronomy," by Mae Freeman, "The True Book of Moon, Sun and Stars," by John Bryan Lewellen, "Let's Look at the Sky," by Marie Neurath, "The Sky Above Us," by Bertha Morris Parker, "Young Among the Stars," by Herman Schneider, "All About the Stars," by Anne Terry White, "The Golden Book of Astronomy" by Rose Wyler and "Stars," by Herbert Spencer Zim.

Since your public library has not only books on astronomy, but something for everyone, do stop there soon and see what there is for you! The addresses are: Daly City Public Library, 6351 Mission street, and Westlake - Broadmoor Branch Library, 34 Park Plaza drive in Westlake Shopping Center.

SALVATION ARMY NEEDS ARTICLES TO AID THERAPY

Summertime is often clean-up time. Items which are no longer of use to you help in the work therapy program of The Salvaton Army.

Red Shield trucks call daily to help residents clear their homes of usable discards. Household discards, clothing, appliances, repairable furniture, especially baby furniture, are needed for reconditioning in the shops by those who come to The Salvation Army for help with their problems—whether social or physical.

These "made new" items are sold in thrift shops to maintain this entirely self-supporting program. The Red Shield driver will leave a large stand-up bag for use in your home. Call MI 7-7000 for a Red Shield driver.

TV and Radio

CALLING ALL TEENAGERS! . . . One of the newest radio programs with teenagers as participants premiered Saturday afternoon in KGO's spacious studios on Golden Gate Avenue. With genial Charley Stern, popular bandleader as host, the program features guest stars, popular recordings and discussions on hit tunes.

During the show the youngsters listened to a new recording and were asked their opinion as to whether the song would be a "pop" or a "flop." Guest for the day's program was jazz musician Cal Tjader, the Fantasy Records recording star. He answered impromptu questions from the studio audience. We often hear complaints that there aren't enough "live" shows in San Francisco or that there aren't enough suitable radio and television programs for the younger generation. Here is certainly a show that is a step in the right direction. Talking to Charley Stern afterwards he told us that they have some exciting plans for the program.

Later on they plan to honor a high school each week, as well as help promote various club and school activities. In addition they hope to have dancing in the studio. No tickets are required. So why not plan to be at the studios next Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. and join in the fun!

NEW COLORCASTS . . . For a relaxing and thoroughly entertaining hour during your busy day, we suggest that you take time during the week to have a leisurely lunch and watch NBC's fine dramatic program "Matinee Theater" over KRON-TV at 12. Without a doubt one of the leading dramatic presentations over the TV lanes, the program this month completes its 98th week and features four new "live" colorcasts.

COMING PROGRAMS . . . . Telecast from the baseball diamond at the Presidio in San Francisco, KPIX will give exclusive coverage to the Western Region Championship play-offs for Little League baseball players from the 11 Western States, British Columbia and Alberta, Canada, on Saturday, August 17, at 2 p.m.

KQED will feature a return engagement of the program "Understanding Numbers" with Dr. Phillip S. Jones beginning Aug. 23 at 7:30 p.m.

With four new singing stars—Jill Corey, Virginia Gibson, Tommy Leonetti and Alan Copeland—one of the oldest and most popular musical shows on television "Your Hit Parade" will return to the air over NBC, KRON-TV on September 7.

Planners' Plans Askew As Second Meeting Postponed

Vacations and illnesses continued to plague the city planning commission this week, as its meeting was postponed for the second straight month due to lack of a quorum.

The commission had to cancel its July 9 session and was scheduled to convene Tuesday, but only one member showed up.

The planners will attempt to corral a quorum next Tuesday, when they will face a lengthy agenda.

CSM Sets Tests For Vocational Nursing Students

College of San Mateo will offer a beginning class in Vocational Nursing this fall and announces Thursday, August 22, as the date of tests for persons interested in enrolling.

These tests for nursing aptitudes will be given at 9 a.m. in Room 15C at Coyote Point Campus, and must be taken to qualify for enrollment in the class which begins September 10. Men and women between the ages of 18 and 55 may apply. Following the preliminary tests August 22, prospective students will be personally interviewed August 27.

Vocational Nursing training is a 12-month course which includes classroom instruction and hospital practice. On completion of the College of San Mateo course, graduates are eligible to take the California State Board licensing examination which qualifies them to work as licensed vocational nurses in homes, hospitals, doctors' offices, and public health agencies.

Employment opportunities for vocational nurses are excellent because of the shortage in nursing personnel. All College of San Mateo graduates have been immediately employed.

Persons interested in enrolling in vocational nursing training are advised that the August 22 eligibility tests are required. Detailed information on the course is available by writing Evelyn Crowley, RN, or Barbara VanVeen, RN, College of San Mateo, or by phoning DI 2-1421.

At present rates, 55 per cent of patients with uterine cancer are being saved. But the American Cancer Society says 70 per cent are now saved when the disease is diagnosed and treated early.

BROADMOOR unwillingly got a six-foot deep creek and "fountain of youth" Friday when this car broke a water main after its driver swerved off 87th street to avoid another auto. Water shot almost 10 feet high for some three hours before the main was repaired. The high-powered stream did considerable damage to crops and to two greenhouses below the hill. Driver of the detoured vehicle was not cited. THE RECORD

It Certainly Wasn't The Sporting Thing

Apparently the guy doesn't like the sport.

That was the conclusion of irate directors at Lake Merced Country Club last week when an invader tried to ruin the golf course.

According to Ed Berardi, head greenskeeper, a culprit removed and shattered some seven hole markers, scattering the pieces hither and yon.

Loss amounted to about $80, police said. Probably a juvenile, they presumed.

Local Explorer Scouts Attend Aquatic Campout

Explorer Scouts of the San Francisco Boy Scout Council are perfecting their aquatic skills this week at the council's Aquatic Camp at Camp Royaneh, Cazadero, Sonoma county.

Thirty-six of the top watermen are participating in a variety of rugged outdoor aquatic skills including rowing, swimming, life saving and canoeing.

A special feature of the camp will enable Explorers, boys aged 14 to 17, to train for the "Mills Mile" certificate. This honor represents completion of continuous swimming by a Scout for 6000 feet. The "Mills Mile" is named in honor of Captain Fred C. Mills, former national health and safety director of the Boy Scouts of America and now director of the Council's Camp Lilienthal in Fairfax, Marin county.

Participating Explorers will be given the opportunity to Qualify for the Boy Scout merit badges in rowing, canoeing, life saving and swimming as well as earn the Scout life guard certificate.

Special fun and fellowship features of the camp will include marksmanship, fishing, archery and related field events.

Attending from the Daly City area are Charles E. Culley, 678 Stoneford drive; James R. Penelli, 51 Fairway drive; Michael Silberstein, 157 Wilshire drive, all of Troop 248, sponsored by Westlake Improvement Association; Jerry Shirinian, 535 Crestlake drive, Troop 108; Michael Bailafer, 25 Broadmoor drive, Troop 300; Bill Gassaway, 956 Junipero Serra boulevard, Troop 340, sponsored by the Lake Merced Club.

PTA Will Exhibit 'Tools' At Fair

With State Fair time not too far off—August 28—plans are being made by many a family hereabouts to spend some time viewing the exhibits and enjoying the general color and excitement.

The California Congress of Parents and Teachers is going to the Fair too, with another of the interesting exhibits it has sponsored for the past eight years. "Tools of Our Trade" is this year's theme, and the arrangement is designed to familiarize the public with the PTA, its program of child welfare in all aspects, and its materials for implementing that program. Center of attraction will be a wide array of the National and California Congresses' publications, the "tools of the PTA trade," according to Mrs. Russell Scott of Salinas, CCPT president.

Other features of the booth will be instructional audio-visual aids, prepared by two Sacramento PTA associations, and a set of three California maps of graduating sizes, showing the growth of the CCPT by unit, district, and membership at 20-year intervals, and spotlighting the 1957 total membership—1,632,798.

The CCPT State Fair committee is headed by Mrs. Tony Patch of San Francisco.

WESTLAKE YOUTH HURT ON COASTER

Albert Parham, 10, of 65 Fairview avenue, was treated for leg injuries Monday after he was bumped from his coaster by a car near Westlake shopping center.

Driver of the car, Annette Glickman, 30, of 916 Southgate, told officers she slowed down when she first saw the youngster and his companion. When she stopped, she spotted young Parham lying on the street, holding his leg.

No citations were issued pending further questioning.

PREP GRID CLASSIC

Cloutier, Riedstra In All-Star Roles

By Roy Hurlbert

Two college-bound Jefferson High standouts will be in the spotlight at San Francisco's Kezar stadium next Friday night in the third renewal of the 20-30 Club's West Bay-East Bay all-star football game.

West coaches Hugh McWilliams and Pat Malley expect heavy duty from end Tom Cloutier, 6-4 and 200, and his Indian linemate, guard Bill Riedstra, 5-8 and 170.

Cloutier, headed for University of California, won All-North PAL honors two straight years for Joe McGrath. Riedstra, a chunky 60-minute dependable, was a unanimous all-league choice last fall. He'll attend College of San Mateo.

Poly Products

Tom and Bill transferred to Jeff almost three years ago from SF Poly, the school of grid champions.

Cloutier will start for the West as an offensive end. Riedstra will team at guard with South City's great Joe Butcher, named to the high school "All-America" squad in 1956.

Daly City could well pull a "repeat" in next Friday's clash, starting at 8:15 o'clock. Last year, another Jefferson star, Jim Honeywell, walked off with the game's most valuable player award. Honeywell this fall is regarded one of Stanford's top first-string possibilities as a sophomore fullback.

Jeff has been represented in the big clash since it was introduced in 1955. First Daly City player performing in the shindig was end Mike Cloonan.

Drill In SSF

The Daly City pair are working with the West Bay contingent at South San Francisco high school, 10 a.m. to 3 in the afternoon.

The squads are comprised of 25 outstanding high school graduates from each side of the bay. Five alternates have been named to each team.

More than half of the performers saw action late last month as Northern California routed Southern California's preps.

Biggest man in the East Bay camp is scatback Herm Urenda, sensational Liberty High broken-field boomer who riddled the Southern Cal forces.

Big gun in the West arsenal is Bellarmine quarterback Johnny Schwartz, a very fine passer. Cloutier, regarded one of the better college prospects in this area, should be Johnny's chief target. Tom has tremendous potential and could be a headliner for Pete Elliot at Cal.

Open Sessions

Public is invited to attend the daily West Bay workouts in South City. The game will attract a big crowd, since proceeds go to San Francisco and Oakland boys' clubs.

Tickets can be obtained at several downtown sporting goods stores or by calling 20-30 Club representatives at JO 7-8382, SU 1-2600, YU 2-2100, SU 1-7700.

Ludwigsen Gives Drugs 5th Victory

Billy Ludwigsen pitched a two-hitter against Milano In at Marchbanks Sunday to lead the Daly City Drugs to their fifth straight win in the Junior League.

Terry Christman doubled and tripled in a nine hit attack that counted for four tallies while the Milanos never got a man past second.

Don Kunkle doubled to start the fifth, but died there, and the other Milano hit was a single by Jim Hamilton who got to second on Welch's sacrifice. The shutout put the Creighton-Krohn kids firmly in first place on the Sunday league.

Barry Krohn, Mike O'Leary and Billy Ludwigsen each had two hits, and Danny Luciano opened the second inning with a long double to center. O'Leary stole home after his three bagger brought in Christman.

Tom Bournellis' boys were tops in the field, erasing one miscue via a double play, Bill Hynes to Mike Rovai to Krohn on the next blow. O'Leary threw to Rovai after a strike out for another twin killing. Billy Hix patroled short, making several assists.

Daly City Drugs beat Rolph AC in a practice game, 6-2 Saturday at Rolph playground. Taking advantage of Manuel Palos' wildness, the Druggists really made three hits count. Barry Krohn held Rolph to three hits, and the two runs were unearned.

DC Drugs will meet Pomona Tile at Balboa at noon Saturday, then will play the Coast-side Lions at 2 p.m. at Marchbanks Sunday.

BYA Midgets Rout Portola, Trip San Pedro

Ron Johnson and Bruce Hix tossed Broadmoor Youth Association's Midgets to two more wins over the weekend via steady mound efforts.

Hix, who helped with a bags-jammed homer, stopped the Portola Giants, 16-0, Saturday with a one-hitter. The tilt opened second round play in the SF Junior Managers League.

Sunday, in DC Rec League action at Westlake park, the BYAers downed improved San Pedro Lunch, 8-2, as Johnson got the win. Ron was hurt on a play at the plate in the fourth, giving way to John Bennett. Bruce Hix took over in the sixth.

Victory on Sunday put BYA and South Sunset in a deadlock for first with identical 3-1 records. Playoff is set soon.

Doubles by Wayne Stoller and Larry Skinner paced the rout over Portola. Other timely blows were laced by Barney Colangelo, John Vocke, Allan Stoller, Craig Chapot and Dan Dempsey. Best defensive play of the afternoon was Carl Carpenter's running catch in right field.

Portolan Tringale, who got the lone hit off Bruce Hix, was tagged with the hill defeat. Fitting relieved him in the fifth.

Bruce Hix got the only extra base blow in the San Pedro contest—a triple in the sixth. Getting singles for the winners were Jimmy Fisher, Wayne Howell, Carpenter, both Stollers, Alan Contreras, Vocke and John Bennett.

Dick Holmberg was losing hurler and led the Lunch kids at the plate.

This Saturday the BYA Midgets face Westlake Flying A in a 10 a.m. engagement at Balboa diamond.

MIKE ORLICH IS PERMANENT REF FOR PREP TILT

Mike Orlich of Jefferson High has been named to the permanent five-man staff of officials for the annual 20-30 Club prep football game at Kezar stadium.

Orlich has officiated in both previous West Bay-East Bay games. The series stands 1-1, the West evening the count last year.

Working with Mike in future 20-30 Club games will be Lee Eisan, City College of San Francisco; Milt Vucevich, ex-Stanford grid star; Grover Klemmer, Cal's record busting half miler, and Bill Fischer, City College coach and former St. Mary's All-American.

'Water Olympics' Slated Saturday At Jefferson Hi

Daly City Department of Parks and Recreation and the Jefferson Elementary school district today announced joint plans for the 1957 summer Junior Water Olympics.

The program will be held this Saturday at 10:15 a.m. in the Jefferson High pool.

Events will include races, relays and diving. Competition is scheduled for boys and girls separately in three age groups: Class A, 13-15 years; Class B, 11 and 12 years; Class C, 10 years and under.

Events for each division: 25 yard races in freestyle, backstroke and breaststroke; 40 yard and individual medley; 75 yard medley relay; 100 yard freestyle relay; and diving.

Each entry may compete in two races plus the relays and diving. There will be a charge of 15 cents for swimmers. Spectators are welcome. Contestants may sign up at any playground.

Ed Murphy Bags 173-Pound Deer

Ed Murphy, local realtor and Westlake Improvement Association director, is busting his buttons today.

Last week near San Luis Obispo, the Daly City gent bagged a 173-pound four-pointed buck during a hunting trip with his brother-in-law.

San Luis Obispo sportsmen said Murphy's deer was one of the largest taken in the area in many years.

BYA MIDGETS DUEL SUNSET FOR PENNANT

Fired-up Broadmoor Youth Association's horsehiders invade Westlake park next Tuesday night at 6:30 to battle South Sunset for the Midget League championship.

BYA's 8-2 win over stubborn San Pedro Lunch last weekend gave the Broadmoor kids a 3-1 mark, tying them for first with the Sunsetters in final standings.

A strong, two-inning relief job by Bruce Hix preserved the win and shot BYA into the playoff. South Sunset kept pace with a 7-1 decision over the DC Reds.

BIG BASEBALL BATTLE

Cops Aim Platoons At Firemen

Which is more important—youth or experience?

Baseball fans will find the answer September 8 when Daly City's proud police and fierce firemen collide at Marchbanks diamond for the benefit of the Boy Scouts and the Police Athletic League.

Back from Yosemite where he juggled his lineup "at least 50 times" is head flame thrower Elmer Kennedy. The chief would not reveal his starters but said the info would be ready next week. Kennedy did allow, "our kids will make a rat race out of the game."

Unperturbed

Roland Petrocchi, head gendarme, wasn't bothered by Kennedy's philosophy. "True, Elmer has the youth advantage. But experience is more important in sports. Just look at Ole Case and the Yanks. Who carries the load? The vets, of course. And once my platoons get through with Kennedy's Kids, they won't want to play for another year."

Petrocchi said his reliance on the "pappy guys" stems from the practice of his old buddy, Lynn Waldorf, the round man who platooned UC's football squads into three Morning After tilts at Pasadena.

Sound System

"Pappy didn't depend on 60-minute players: Platoons won for him. And they'll win for us over the firemen. Besides, we'll be so far ahead after a few innings that my starters may get bored. Everyone will play for us."

The police camp at Marchbanks perked up this week when Roy "Bazooka" Beecher and Deputy Dave Hansen were pronounced in top shape. Beecher, once exiled from the Arizona-Texas league because his rocket mound delivery killed off three catchers, is tabbed for outfield duty. Roy throws with either hand and uses a 46 ounce bat, reputed the biggest in American baseball.

Speed Merchant

Hansen, whose experience came in the South Pacific against midget leaguers, will see outfield duty. He holds the U. S. Marine Corps record for the 100-yard dash, having been clocked in 9.7 seconds the day he got discharged.

Petrocchi's atomic punch of Jim Welch and Les Bastedo may not be in the starting nine. Roland said the Welch man needs to put on a few more pounds and "we will use him only if I need a pinch-hit homer or two."

Bastedo, protege of Steve Bilko, will open at first base for the cops. Asst. Chief Roy McLaren, former USC Trojan, will roam shortstop. Richard Phillips has looked good at the second sack. Ditto George Brooks at the far turn.

Probable outfield starters are Richard DeLosa, Richard Sims and jumping John Coleman.

Hill Tollers

Buddy Brewer, a newcomer, will be behind the plate to take the slants of Petrocchi, a pretty fair pro prospect with a wicked fast ball. Bastedo, Brewer and Beecher can be called on for mound work.

Jim Sunderland and Healthy Hank Sundermann head the long list of reserves.

"Our lineup right now is tentative," Petrocchi pointed out. "We'll have the entire force on the bench and each man will get his chance to wreck the opposition."

Kennedy merely chuckled. The Silver Fox must have something up his sleeves.

South City Cools DC Rockets, 13-5

The Daly City Rockets lost their final game Saturday in the Peninsula Baseball League play to South San Francisco, 13-5.

The Rockets outhit their opponents, but nine walks issued by the Rocket pitcher kept him constantly in the hole.

Daly City left nine men on base and picked up 14 hits. South San Francisco stroked 11 hits and left nine men stranded.

Leading the Rockets in seasonal hitting was utility man Rich Nelson, with a .500 average. Richard Mortola led the regulars with a .471 mark, getting 8 hits in 17 trips.

Parents Invited To Playgrounds

Parents and friends are invited to attend "open House" programs at city playgrounds this week. The programs include variety shows, arts, craft, hobby exhibits and demonstrations put on by playground children. Refreshments will be served.

Westlake school's open house was scheduled for 7 p.m. this Thursday. Colma and Jefferson joined together for a program at the Colma school this Thursday at 3 p.m. Also on Thursday, Edgewood, Marchbanks Park and War Memorial group combined for a program at the War Memorial building beginning at 1:30 p.m.

On Friday, August 16, at 1:30 p.m., Lincoln and Frankfort playgrounds join with Crocker for a program at the Crocker school.

Westlake park had its open house Tuesday with Olympia at Westlake park, and Garden Village joined with Benjamin Franklin school Wednesday afternoon.

Lodgers Win 1st Playoff Tilt, 6-2

Westlake Lodge entered the Adult Softball League final last week with 6-2 playoff win over Shannon Hardware.

The Lodgers this Wednesday night are scheduled to play the winner of the Daly City Drugs-Ralph's Cleaners game, held last evening. Ralph's, regular season champs, and the Druggists went to a nine inning tilt last week in opening the playoffs. The score was knotted 3 all when darkness intervened. Thus ended a good pitching battle between Bob Holm and Mike Clark.

Tom Kitchen, allowing only five hits, bested Ed Leveron, Jeff High ace, as the Lodgmen triumphed.

Rec Department Crowns Forty-Two City-Wide, All-Sports Champions

Daly City Department of Parks and Recreation today announced the results of city-wide tournament championships held last Thursday.

Preliminaries and quarter-finals were run off in the morning followed by semi-finals and finals in the afternoon. Competition was held in six classifications, three each for boys and girls.

Entrants were limited to two tournaments.

One boy and two girls came out double winners. Westlake Park's Peter Pollat showed his versatility by taking first in Class B ping pong and chess. Marchbanks park's Lala Patron took top honors in Class A ping pong and free throws. The third double winner was Westlake School's Sherry Asaro in Class C paddle pool and free throws.

There were 42 champions crowned in eight tournament events.
